

Nordicom – Sweden

Media Barometer 2013

Children and youth: A statistical overview

Version 1
2014-08-25

NORDICOM

University of Gothenburg

Table of Contents

Figure 1. Young people's use of media the average day (per cent)	2
Figure 2. Young Internet users use of traditional media the average day (per cent)	3
Figure 3. Common online activities among young people using Internet the average day (per cent)	4
Figure 4. Share of young population using social media, traditional media online, computer games and video clip the average day (per cent)	5
Figure 5. Online news, the average day (per cent)	6
Figure 6. Online news by channel, the average day (per cent)	7
Figure 7. Online news by channel, the average day (per cent)	8
Figure 8. Time spent with media 9-14 years 1979/1980, 2002 and 2013 (minutes)	9
Figure 9. Time spent with media 15-24 years 1979/1980, 2002 and 2013 (minutes)	10

Figure 1. Young people's use of media the average day (per cent)

Figure 2. Young Internet users use of traditional media the average day (per cent)

Figure 3. Common online activities among young people using Internet the average day (per cent)

Figure 4. Share of young population using social media, traditional media online, computer games and video clip the average day (per cent)

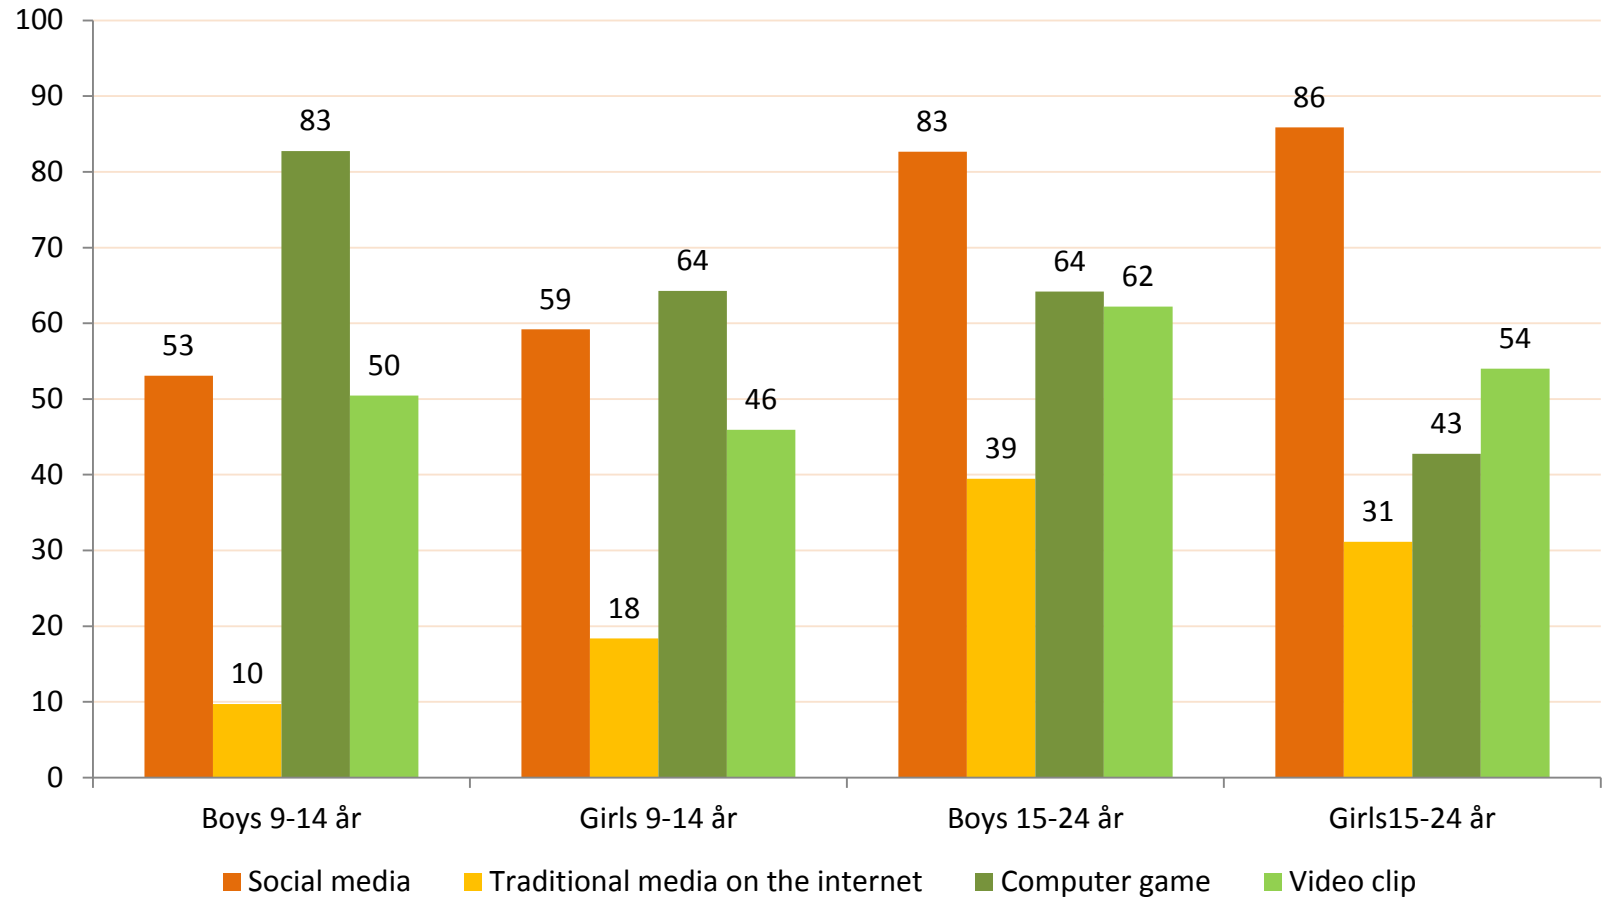

Figure 5. Online news, the average day (per cent)

Figure 6. Online news by channel, the average day (per cent)

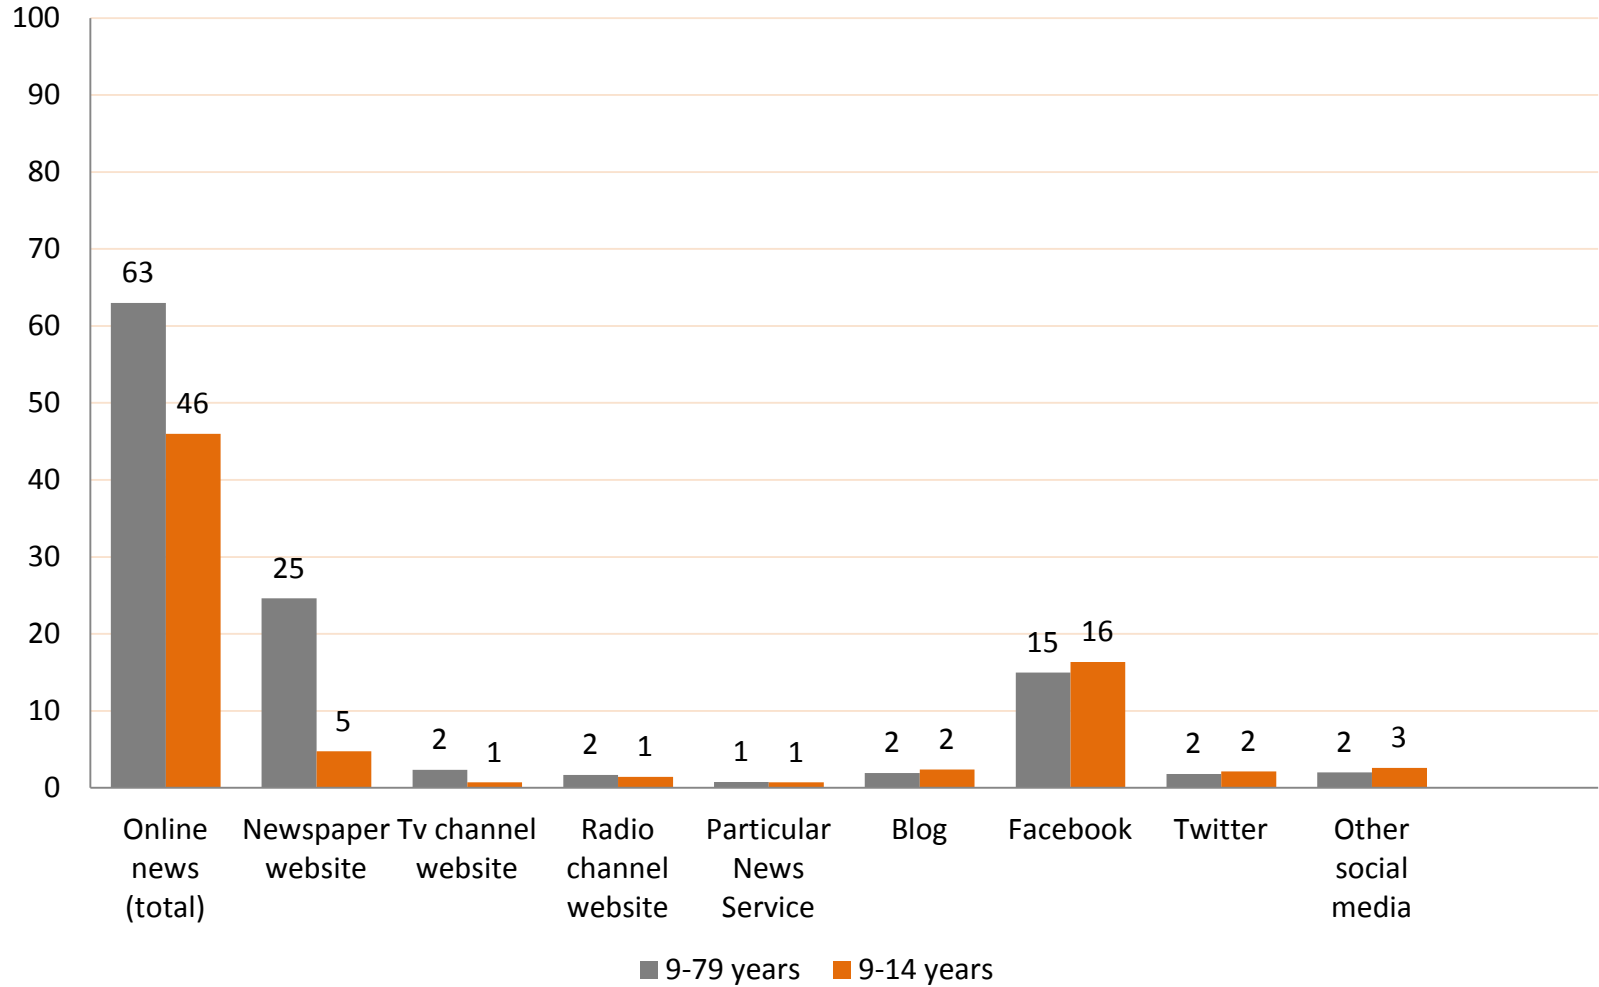

Figure 7. Online news by channel, the average day (per cent)

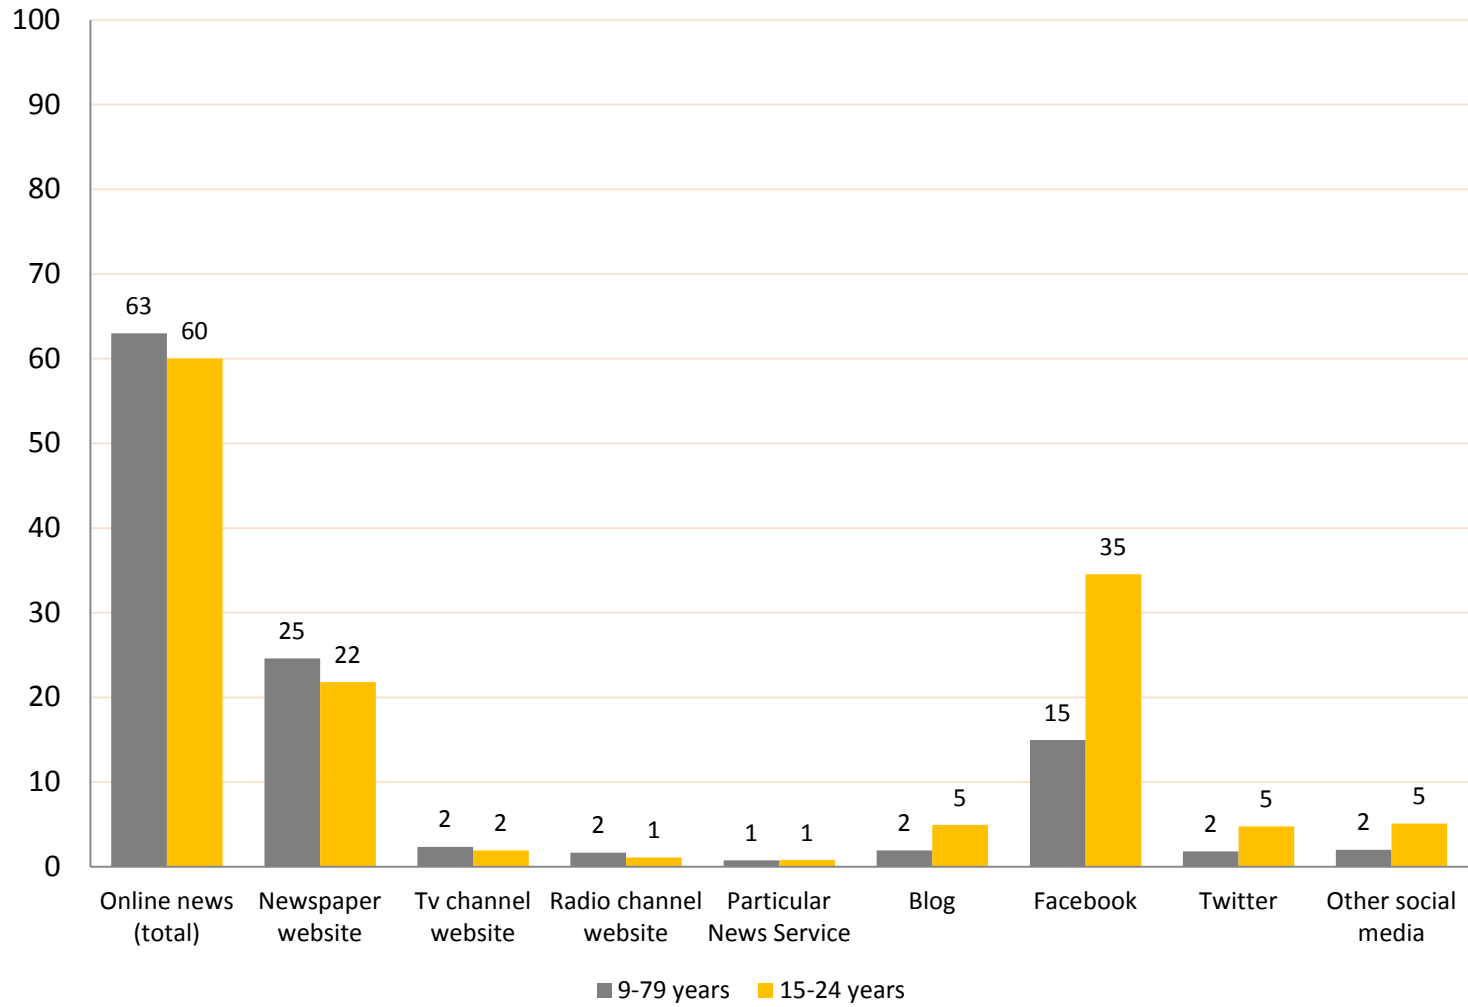

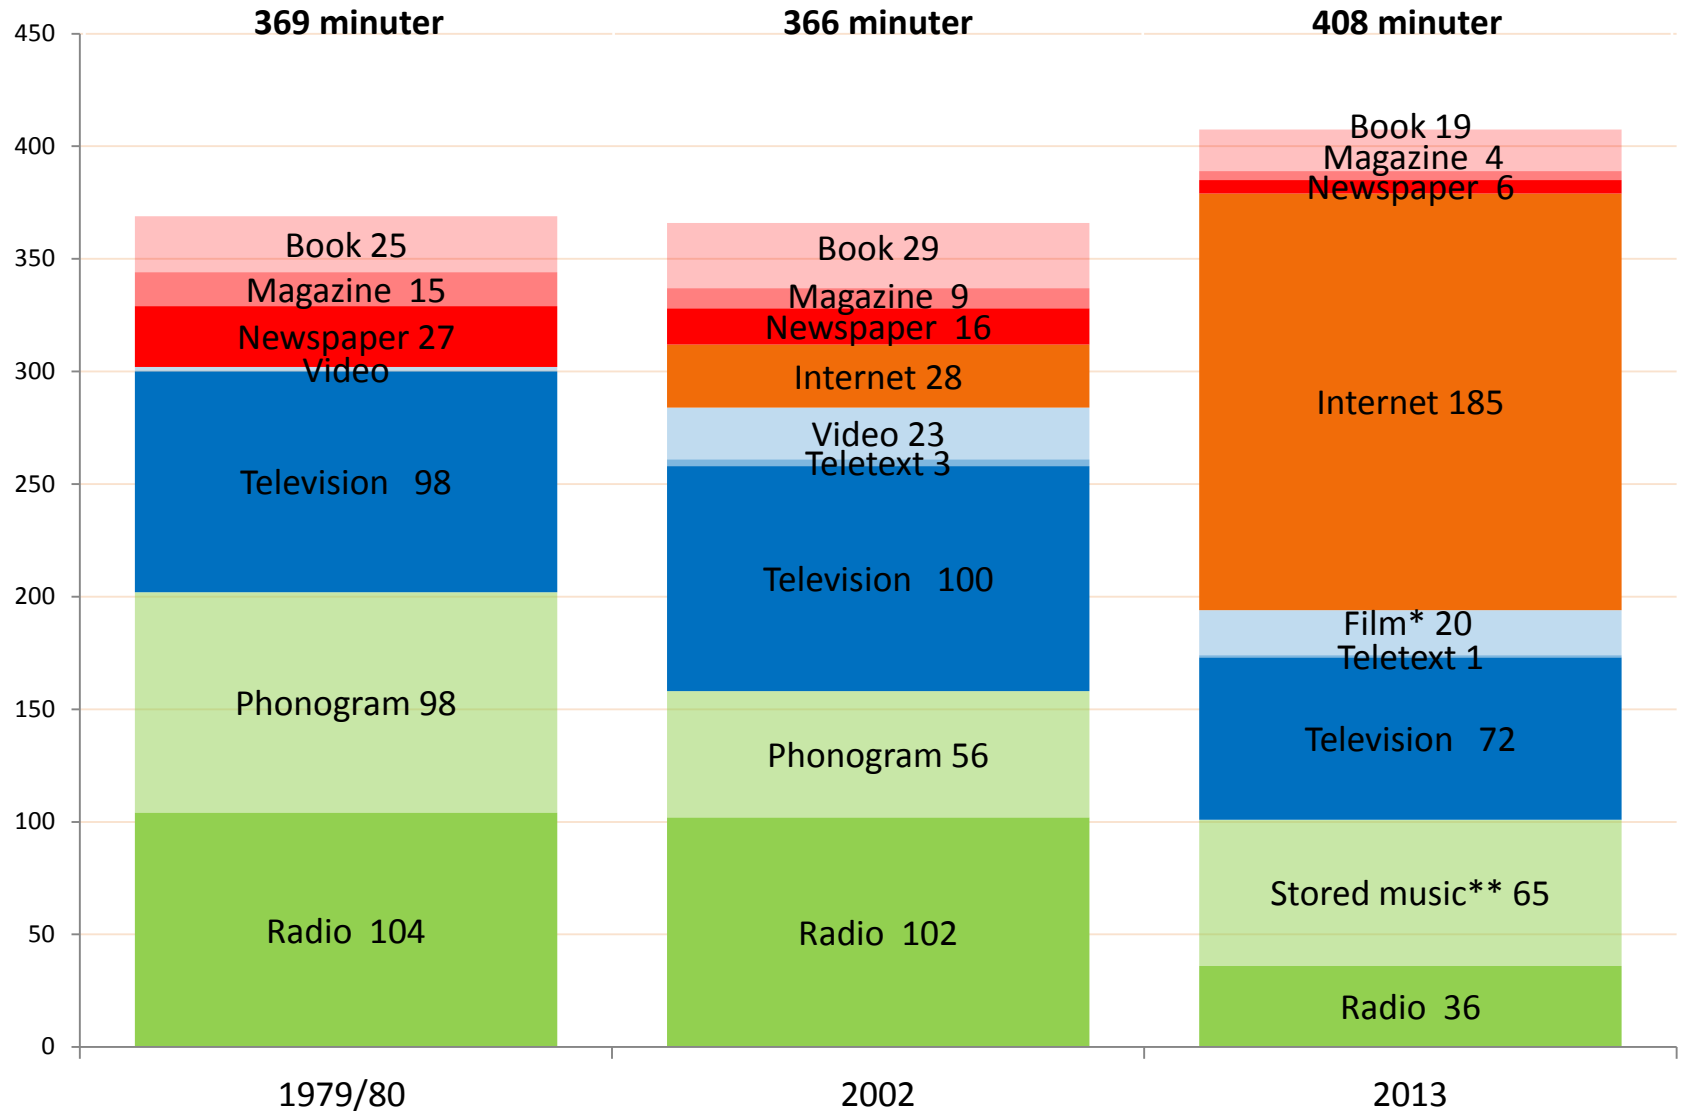

Figure 8. Time spent with media 9-14 years 1979/1980, 2002 and 2013 (minutes)

* cinema or scheduled television not included

 radio and television not included

Figure 9. Time spent with media 15-24 years 1979/1980, 2002 and 2013 (minutes)

* cinema or scheduled television not included

 radio and television not included